Leader, New President To Fly Into City

Will Set Up Formal Government, Restore Order in Havana Area

HAVANA (AP) — Thousands of bearded guerrillas marched into Havana today ahead of the imminent arrival of rebel leader Fidel Castro.

Wild victory celebrations began in the streets. Streams of men, women and children began joyful demonstrations, shouting: "Long live Fidel Castro."

Castro and his designated temporary president, Judge Manuel Urrutia, were reported flying from the provisional capital of Santiago in eastern Cuba. They were expected at any moment.

The prospects were good that the provisional government would be set up by nightfall.

Jubilation Sweeps City

Jubilation swept the 1,225,000 residents in Havana with the report that a triumphal appearance was not far off for the 32-year-old Castro, who drove dictator Fulgencio Batista into exile New Year's Day.

The first task facing the new regime is to restore order and to end a general revolutionary strike that has paralyzed this big resort capital and created a growing food shortage.

Radio stations broadcast new warnings that anyone caught looting or stirring up disorder would be dealt with severely.

Heavy squads of police, sailors, and coast guardsmen were assigned to watch all vital centers, including government buildings, banks, and industrial plants.

Castro's forces are firmly in control of the whole island, but they still face the prospect of cleaning up die-hard remnants of the Batista regime hiding out in Havana.

Military Man Arrested

Maj. Gen. Eulogio Cantillo, chief of the armed forces under the short-lived military junta that took over after Batista had fled to the Dominican Republic, was arrested. Castro had accused Cantillo of betraying him after making a deal to hand over Batista and his top aides along with the

May Be Man's First Artificial Planet in Skies

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union boasted today that its new cosmic rocket will be the "first artificial planet and a satellite of the sun."

The rocket will miss the moon, passing it at a distance of between 3,750 and 5,000 miles, Moscow Radio said.

The rocket, which was launched Friday, was still on course at 1 p.m. Moscow time 5 a.m. EST. It had traveled 130,789 miles from the earth.

The radio kept jubilant and eager Soviet citizens well informed on the progress of the rocket, furnishing some details of its travel.

The moon is now about 219,000 miles from the earth. The sun is about 93 million miles away.

The Soviet government predicted the rocket will reach the vicinity of the moon about 11 p.m. EST today. The expected time of arrival in the area of the sun was not announced.

Thought Rocket Would Burn

At the time when U.S. scientists thought an American moon shot would pass the moon and head toward the sun, they said the rocket probably would be burned up in the sun.

The Soviet announcement indicated otherwise. The Kremlin expects its rocket to survive the fierce heat around the center of the solar system.

There was no indication of how long Soviet scientists expect the rocket to survive as a planet.

Viktor Hozikin, director of the Moscow Planetarium, had said earlier that it was still uncertain what would be the fate of the rocket.

'Very Great Success'

He described it as a "very great success," especially since it was much heavier and had traveled much farther than American attempts.

The Russians said their rocket's scientific apparatus was working normally. It was reported over northeastern Brazil at 5 a.m. EST today.

The radio said the temperature on the rocket's surface was 15 to 20 degrees centigrade—27 to 36 degrees Fahrenheit.

The Soviet government has said it will prepare to put men on the moon in a future expedition. From there flights further into space can be launched, it said.

A top Soviet scientist, Director Dimitry Martynov of the Sternberg State Astronomical Institute, said he considers the rocket "a true last rehearsal for the real cosmic journey ... a stage toward interplanetary journeys has been really achieved ..."

Exceeded U. S. Shots

The Red rocket to the sun has already gone farther than the best of four unsuccessful U.S. attempts to reach the moon.

The 85-pound U.S. Air Force moon probe Pioneer I soared 71,300 miles before errors of launching angle and propulsion speed caused it to fall back.

The moon will be about 219,000 miles from the earth at the time the Soviet government says its rocket will get there.

The Russian "cosmic ship weighs about 3,239 pounds without fuel," Moscow Radio reported.

The Russians have long talked about setting up space stations in orbit around the earth as the launching point for travels farther into the solar system. The weight

New Flag Decreed

Alaska Officially Accepted Into U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today proclaimed statehood for the vast territory of Alaska.

In a separate act Eisenhower changed the design of the national flag to provide for the 49th state. The new flag, to become official next July 4, will have seven staggered rows of seven stars each.

The present flag has six rows of eight stars each.

The signing of the statehood proclamation took place at a brief, historic ceremony starting at noon (EST) in the White House cabinet room.

Federal and Alaskan officials watched the drama unfold.

Eisenhower flew here by helicopter from his Gettysburg, Pa., farm early this morning for the ceremony. He planned to return there later in the day.

Admission Accomplished

At the brief ceremony, Eisenhower signed a one-page proclamation saying the requirements imposed by Congress entitling Alaska to admission into the union have been complied with in all respects.

Admission of the state of Alaska into the union on an equal footing with the other states of the union is now accomplished, the proclamation said.

Eisenhower, in signing an executive order defining the flag design, unfurled the first new flag. It was made for the ceremony by the Army Quartermaster Corps.

The White House said the new flag will not be official before next Independence Day, July 4, and therefore it would be improper to fly it from the White House before then.

42-Year Drive

With the stroke of a pen, Eisenhower took the final step which shoves the boundaries of the United States 1,500 miles to the west, within 55 miles of the Russian mainland. Only three miles separate Russian-held Big Diomede Island in the Bering Strait from Lit-

New U.S. Flag Has Staggered Rows of Stars

National Emblem Will Become Official Next July 4; Stripes To Stay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's new flag, unfurled today by President Eisenhower, will have the usual 13 red and white stripes and 49 stars arranged in 7 staggered rows of 7 each. Alternate rows of the stars are indented.

The President, after proclaiming Alaska the 49th state, signed an executive order fixing the new design for the United States flag.

By law, the order said, the new 49-star national flag becomes the official ensign on July 4, 1959.

"Display of the new flag before that time would be improper," the order said. "This does not mean that after July 4, 1959 it will be improper to display the 48-star flag.

"With limited exceptions, agencies of the federal government will continue to display the 48-star flag so long as it is still in good condition and until existing stocks of unused flags are exhausted. It is appropriate for all citizens to do the same."

The President, who had formally approved the flag design at Gettysburg Friday, flew here by helicopter to reveal the new flag at the Alaska statehood ceremony.

The new flag was placed in a standard beside a standard carrying the 48-star flag for the ceremony.

A special four-man committee composed of the secretaries of state, defense and treasury and the chairman of the Commission of Fine Arts, selected the new design from more than 1900 suggestions.

Talk Rumored Between Soviet Official, Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) —Russia's Anastas Mikoyan is reported interested in talking over foreign policy problems with Vice President Nixon when he visits here next week.

It is highly likely that Nixon will agree to meet the Kremlin trouble shooter some time during his four or five day stay.

Mikoyan, who holds the rank of first deputy premier, is also understood to want to meet with President Eisenhower. But the White House has made no move yet to arrange such a meeting, mainly because the visit is billed as "informal." The Nixon-Mikoyan conference appears to be the most important being mentioned informally in advance of the 63-year-old Kremlin leader.

Mikoyan, accompanied by his son and five aides, is due to arrive Sunday morning in New York for a 2½ to 3 week visit which includes stops in 10 major American cities.

The State Department and the Soviet embassy have joined in cloaking his schedule with an aura

Purchases Increase

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—American military purchases in South Korea are expected to total 30 million dollars during the one-year period ending June 30, 1959, the U. S. Army announced today.

Its procurement agency said this was an increase of nearly seven million dollars over the same period in the previous year.

Improvements Suggested

Extensive Survey Made on Schools

This is the first in a series of articles designed to acquaint Marion Countians with the county school survey completed recently by the Bureau of Educational Research of Ohio State University. This account will deal with the extent of the survey and the bureau's findings on current building facilities and the curriculum now offered in county schools.

By ALLAN BOVEY

"What will we have to do to prepare for the future educational needs of our children?"

This question, asked by boards of education and principals throughout the Marion County system, prompted the county board of education in 1957 to engage the Ohio State University Bureau of Educational Research to find the answer.

The bureau, after an extensive survey, revealed its findings last August.

ITS PRINCIPAL recommendation, merging the 10 existing local school districts into a single district, will be voted on by the affected citizens in November.

To help the electorate understand this and other recommendations of the survey team, the county board this month will undertake a series of meetings with local boards throughout the county. The survey findings will be explained in detail and the benefits of the proposed changes will be discussed.

The survey, conducted at a cost of $3,000 to the county board, had six goals, each considered vital to obtaining a clear picture of the educational needs and the best possible way to fill them.

THE OSU experts sought, in the first instance, to analyze the several communities with regard to size, population and school enrollment, noting wealth differentials, home ownership status and the general condition of homes and businesses in each.

They studied existing educational programs in order to help school officials project desired changes needed in the future. And, they checked enrollment trends which would materially affect future school programs.

They considered the adequacy of existing school plants, analyzed the financial structures of each district and, at survey's end, developed specific recommendations regarding district reorganization, indicating the best use to which existing buildings could be put and suggesting major school plant improvements.

The survey findings and recommendations were compiled in a 108-page report, the final printed form of which has been in the hands of school officials in each

Fire Destroys Trailer Home On West Side

Fire of undetermined origin swept through a house trailer in the Oakland Trailer Park Friday afternoon and destroyed the mobile home.

The loss to the trailer and its contents was estimated at $2,500 today by Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt. It was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Canterbury.

All the couple's clothing, except what they were wearing, was lost in the blaze.

The wood and metal trailer "went up like a match box," Chief Sifritt said. When Central and W. Center St. station firemen arrived at the scene the entire 18-foot unit was engulfed in flames.

Heat from the blaze blistered paint on a trailer occupied by Carson Barnhart, just east of the Canterbury unit, the chief reported. Damage to the Carson trailer was estimated at $25.

Classes Resume Monday For City, County Pupils

Armed with New Year's resolutions to tackle the books in all earnestness, the city and county's 12,900 parochial and public school students will return to classes Monday at the regular time, signaling the end of Christmas vacation. Pupils in one school, Martel, went back to classes Monday.

For high school students, this month will represent not only the halfway mark in the school year, but the approach of semester final examinations and an opportunity to prove their scholastic achievements.

Extra Hours Planned For Sale of Dog Tags

To facilitate dog owners in purchasing dog tags, the county auditor's office will be open through the noon hour from Monday through Friday until the Jan. 20 deadline, Maurice C. Clements, county auditor, announced today.

He reported that only 990 tags have been sold to date against an expected sale of 7,300.

Price of the tags is $2 per dog and $10 for a kennel license.

New Yorkers' Baby Is Stolen From Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)—The search for a newborn baby stolen from a Brooklyn hospital shifted today to Manhattan, where a young blonde woman aroused a druggist's suspicions by asking for a bottle warmer.

The infant girl was taken from St. Peter's Hospital Friday night shortly after birth, and a bleached blonde about 30 is believed the kidnaper.

Emil Fischer, proprietor of a drugstore on Manhattan's east side, told police a blonde woman between 25 and 30 came in just before 9 a.m. today and asked for a bottle warmer.

He said she left and drove off in a pale green foreign car after being told he had no warmers in stock.

Fischer described the woman as about 5 foot 3 and weighing about 110 pounds. This weight, however, did not jibe with that of the blonde seen leaving the Brooklyn hospital in a furtive manner. She was said to weigh about 140.

The baby was born at 9:17 p.m. to Mrs. Frances Chionchio, 26, whose husband Frank, 28, is a lawyer for the Port Authority of New York.

The infant was placed in a bas-

Success of Russian Firing Another Goal for America

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia's rocket rushed toward the moon today, leaving in its trail another major challenge for the United States in the battle of space prestige.

A congressional demand for more American moon shots came shortly before the Russians reported their rocket had streaked farther into space than any man-made object has ever gone before.

The Soviet Union predicted the rocket would reach the vicinity of the moon by 7 a.m. Sunday, Moscow time (11 p.m. today, EST). At that time the moon will be about 219,000 miles from the earth.

Deputy Soviet Premier Anastas Mikoyan, by coincidence or otherwise, is expected to arrive in New York a few hours later for his visit to the United States.

So confident of their rocket's success were the Russians that they began talking about preparing a manned expedition to the moon.

The Russians say their "cosmic ship" weighs about 3,239 pounds without fuel. A British scientist estimated the weight of all rocket stages at an astounding 250 tons.

Moscow Radio termed the Russian moon probe, launched Friday, "the first successful interplanetary flight." Scientists throughout the world tended to agree.

The Soviet rocket, which glowed like an artificial comet at times, may prod U.S. officials into accepting a House Space Committee proposal to rush more shots at the moon.

The Air Force and the Army have tried to strike the moon or shoot a rocket beyond it four times. The closest they came was 71,300 miles into space — or about one third of the way to the moon. The Russians say their rocket zoomed past that mark early today.

The Soviets said the rocket had reached "second cosmic speed."

Soviet Planet May Circle Sun for Millions of Years

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The fledgling Soviet planet might wheel around the sun for millions of years.

And it could tell scientists what space is like at distances of one or several million miles from earth if its radio voice is strong enough.

These were goals of the Army's Pioneer III moonshot a month ago. That rocket rose up only 66,654 miles.

Now Soviet scientists have given earth a baby brother planet. It not only brings them tremendous prestige with a planet bearing pennants reading "U.S.S.R.—January, 1959." It also can gather invaluable new knowledge about space itself.

The 3,239-pound planet was launched with sufficient speed to keep climbing until it escaped from the earth's gravity, then to be pulled on an altered course by the sun's far greater gravity.

Depending on the orbit it assumes, it could circle the sun for perhaps millions of years. One day it might come close enough to earth to be tugged home again and burn up in the earth's atmosphere.

Aimed toward the moon, it perhaps will come close enough to tell significant facts about the moon itself. It carried instruments to probe the moon's magnetism and radioactivity.

If Time Stood Still

On the way home from an enjoyable evening with some good friends recently, one of our party said, "Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could make time stand still so we could hold on to an evening like this forever, never let it go!"

Indeed, there are times like this; times, places and events that stand out far above the average daily experience. So great is our pleasure and satisfaction on such occasions that we do not want to let go, but wish we might hold on forever to what we have at the moment.

But, how can we be sure at any one time that we have exactly what we want? How do we know when we have reached the peak of personal pleasure and satisfaction, or that the future does not hold something much more desirable for us?

THE ANSWER, of course, is that we cannot be sure; we do not know.

Fortunately, time does not stand still. Even more fortunately, we cannot make it stand still.

Time goes on, unconscious of personal desire of individual will. In doing so, it demonstrates again and again that we are not as wise as we think we are. It saves us from errors of judgment. It compensates for loss. It heals wounds and opens locked doors.

If man could stop the clock to suit his convenience, he would cut himself off from the benefits of passing time. His life would become stagnant and unproductive. His temporary satisfaction with things as they are soon would give way to restlessness, impatience and boredom.

IT IS GOOD to see the old year pass and the new year come. With the change we gain a fresh, firm hold on life and a new promise in the days ahead.

As we face these days, one at a time, we need remember only this: There is a mighty wisdom greater than our own, an infinite wisdom that overrides and supersedes even the best of human minds.

This wisdom has decreed that time shall not stand still, that life shall not be static, that always there will be a future, and that man ever shall have faith in that future.

Prospect St. Methodist

Soloist in the morning at Prospect Street Methodist Church will be Mrs. Kenneth Connolly. She will sing, "What Shall I Give Thee, Master?" The sermon will be, "The Transforming Presence" and prelude will be, "Fanfare," Dubois, "Echoes of Spring," Friml, will be offertory and "March of the Noble," Keats, postlude. Organizations meeting next week will be the official board, Wesleyan Service Guild and Woman's Society.

Jehovah's Witnesses

"The Book with Life's Answers" will be the topic for the public address Sunday at 3 p.m. at the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses by G. W. Ollam. He will consider such questions as, "What shall we believe, what principles should govern our relations with others and what does the future hold out?" The regular question and answer Bible study with the aid of the Watchtower magazine will follow at 4:15 with a discussion of the subject: "Divine Loving-Kindness and the Kingdom."

Resolved That

A Sermonette

By THE REV. CLEMENT E. HERSHEY
Pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church

"Neither yield ye your members as instruments of unrighteousness until sin: but yield yourselves unto God. . . ." Romans 6:13.

A new year has dawned. A new year of opportunities, privileges, work, play and service is ours. The mistakes of last year are behind us. The opportunities of last year may be gone forever. But a new year has dawned. At this time of the year many resolutions are made. . . made and broken. Many folk endeavor to turn over a new leaf. Let us as Christians get a new view of Christ, a new passion for the lost, a new intense desire to serve Him better and a new submission to His will. We may never see another year dawn. Christ may come this new year. Let us as believers resolve that we will serve the Lord better, more willingly — even eagerly in this coming year. Let us pray from the very depths of our hearts as we begin this year:

"Only to be what He wants me to be.
Every moment of every day:
Yielded completely to Jesus alone,
Every step of this pilgrim way;
Just to be clay in the Potter's hands,
Ready to do what His Word commands,
Only to be what He wants me to be,

WHAT DOES he want you to be? "Neither yield ye your members as instruments of unrighteousness unto sin: but yield yourselves unto God, as those that are alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteousness unto God." First, He wants you to be yielded unto God. If you are yielded unto God, you won't permit Satan to use you as an instrument of sin. It is a joy to Satan to use a believer to promote unrighteousness. Don't let Satan use you. Rather, yield yourself unto God.

As we become more and more Christ-conscious we become more yielded unto Him. Let us get a new view of Christ as God manifested in the flesh, "our example that we should follow his steps." With our eyes upon Christ, we cannot fail.

Let us first view Christ in the wilderness, tempted by Satan after 40 days and 40 nights of fasting. How did He combat Satan? He answered him by quoting God's own Word, showing us that the most efficient way to defeat the enemy is by using the Word of God. Think of Him in His tender love and affection for the children. He said, "Suffer the little children to come unto Me." Surely the children found blessing and gladness when they came into contact with Him. Recall that when Peter's wife's mother lay sick of a fever He came into that burdened home with compassion and brought healing and relief.

NOW LET US view His gracious, tender dealing with Judas Iscariot. Judas was a traitor and had bargained to sell Him and the Lord knew all this. Yet unto the last hour he graciously permitted Judas to associate with the true disciples and He dealt with him even as with them. What wonderful love He manifests! Think too of Peter, who, in his arrogant self-confidence declared he would follow Him and then in the hour of trial denied Him with oaths and curses. The Lord did not rebuke Peter. He merely looked on him and Peter remembered the words of his Lord and his heart melted and he went out and wept bitterly.

How kind and understanding He was when in the midst of the storm the fearful disciples awakened Him. As the storm raged and the winds blew and the waves beat high, the Lord of Creation slept. The disciples became panic stricken. "Master, carest thou not that we perish?", they said unto Him. At a word from Him the storm ceased. With Christ in the ship, the disciples were safe for He was absolutely Master over the elements. Yet they were so fearful they awakened Him.

Truly, this view of Christ as God manifested in the flesh makes us realize more clearly than ever before that He was a wonderful Man. The more we study Christ the more we realize that He was the Perfect Man. As our thoughts dwell upon Him we become entranced with His magnificence, His love, His purity, His compassion, His forgiving spirit, His care and concern for His children and His frank honesty even with His enemies. What an example!

AS YOU consider Christ are you willing to yield your life entirely to Him? True happiness comes comes only in full surrender to the Lord. Many of the failures and the mistakes of last year can be avoided in this new year if you let Christ have His way in your life. Just now, purpose in your heart as did Daniel many years ago, that you will serve the Lord — serve Him with your best, your all. Resolve that you will be what He wants you to be, every moment of every day in this coming year. Then yield yourself to Him as clay in the Potter's hands and be ready and willing to do what His Word commands. Perfect submission to His will will help you to keep this resolution. Look to Him for guidance and trust Him implicitly and each day will bring more happiness, and joy than you have ever known before.

However, you cannot be what He wants you to be until you have been cleansed by His precious blood. Therefore, if you have never accepted His sacrifice for sin as your personal atonement for sin, do so just now. Accept Christ "Who in his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness; by whose stripes ye were healed." 1 Peter 2:24. Truly He died for YOU.

Galion Air Stewardess Given Diploma, Then Idled by Strike

GALION — Settlement of the Eastern Airlines strike, late Wednesday night, brought a sparkle to the luminous brown eyes of Galion's newest airline stewardess, Miss Carol Howman.

She hardly had her diploma in her hands upon graduation, Nov. 21, in Miami, Fla., when the 38-day strike was called Nov. 24.

Miss Howman was one of 52 young women to complete the stiff six-weeks' course at Miami.

Based at Miami

"I will be based at Miami, Fla., and I am anxious to get back there to begin the work I have looked forward to for so many months," Miss Howman said as she waited at the home of her parents here for orders. She has an apartment on beautiful Biscayne Bay with three other stewardesses.

At Miami she will take extended training in preparation for jet flying.

Her first flight as a stewardess will be under the eyes of her supervisor, and will be on one of the smaller planes with a capacity of 40 to 44 passengers.

The brown-haired and brown-eyed Miss Howman is five-feet four inches tall, weighs 120 pounds and is 21 years old.

High in Her Class

Miss Howman was high in her class, with an average of 95. She was graduated from Galion High School in 1955, and attended Ohio State University for a year prior to her course at Miami. Two years of college or its equivalent in public relations work is a requirement for the stewardess course. Miss Howman's experience with the public included work at the Sun Finance and Loan Co. in Mansfied, and in the office of Hercules Galion Corp., Inc.

She has been spending her time since Nov. 23 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton I. Howman, on Harding Way W., Galion.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Religion and Psychiatry Work Together

A little boy of nine was brought to our religio-psychiatric clinic in New York by his mother. His family physician had given him all the tests he could, but the child continued to complain of persistent stomach-ache. He was a tense little boy; he told us that clocks seemed to tick too fast and TV entertainers shouted too loud.

Vincent Peale

Our clinic studied the child and sent a social psychiatrist into the home to study the living situation of the boy. The father, he found, was a restless businessman who came home every night with worry on his face and a briefcase under his arm. At dinner he talked only of business problems. After dinner he disappeared into his study and worked all evening.

The mother was a joiner, a member of every possible committee. The phone started ringing for her at 8 o'clock every morning and never seemed to stop. "The telephone drives me nuts," her son told our psychiatrists.

WE WENT TO work on the father and convinced him that his attitudes and actions were a cause of his son's trouble. Our doctors found that the father was punishing himself for sins he had committed earlier in life and was literally, although unconsciously, trying to work himself to death. We helped him find peace of mind so that he was eventually able to better organize his work so as to get it done during office hours.

Then we persuaded the mother to reduce her organizational activities and to confine her telephoning to the period from 9 to 3 o'clock when her boy was in school. And we helped the child himself to find friends and playmates (not as easy a task in New York as it is in smaller towns and cities). He needed more normal contact with children his own age living as he did exclusively in an adult world.

One of our clinic ministers then asked the man and woman if they ever had prayer in their home. They said they had not. He then suggested that they should offer prayer regularly and the husband said to the wife, "Okay, you pray at the dinner table."

"Oh, no," she said, "you're the head of the house."

IT WAS THE first time his wife had ever made that admission and it pleased him so much that he undertook the obligation. He learned to pray and to create a prayerful atmosphere in that home. A new sensation of peace, a slower tempo and a greater feeling of love flowered among the members of that little family.

It was not long before the boy's stomach-ache and his tension vanished. He had been tense because he was living in the midst of a tense situation. And where there is tension in the home the children suffer even more than the adults. In this case, the solution required not only doctors to find and scientifically heal the basic causes of the trouble, but a pastor to teach the family the therapeutic value of prayer.

In the Apocrypha you will find written, "Of the Most High cometh healing." And there is no greater need in America today than for the healing of God in the emotions, the minds and the souls of men. It is fortunate that the willing collaboration of our religious leaders with our doctors, psychiatrists and social workers can result in principles and techniques which lead to normal, healthy lives of emotional control and mental peace.

The Staff of Life

I am the bread of life; he that cometh to me shall never hunger.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

| Day | Book | Chapter | Verses |
|---|---|---|---|
| Sunday | John | 6 | 1-14 |
| Monday | John | 6 | 22-35 |
| Tuesday | I Corinthians | 10 | 16-17 |
| Wednesday | I Corinthians | 11 | 23-28 |
| Thursday | II Corinthians | 9 | 10-15 |
| Friday | Matthew | 26 | 26 |
| Saturday | Acts | 2 | 41-47 |

Have you tried to satisfy your appetite with a bit of candy or a hurried snack? The keen edge of hunger may leave—but only temporarily.

There is another hunger innate in each of us. It is a spiritual hunger, our desire to have protection and help from God. Sometimes we do not really recognize this need. We feel only a restlessness, a longing for something better, an unexplained loneliness.

We often try to satisfy this mysterious hunger with the sweets of pleasure, to cover it up with the hurry of many activities. But it can never be really satisfied until we know God as our Heavenly Father, His Son as our Saviour.

Jesus Christ said, "I am the bread of life; he that cometh to me shall never hunger."

In the Church we find this Christ who offers us the true bread from heaven, the bread which alone satisfies our spiritual hunger.

Batista Lost the Sugar

The circumstantial evidence is that the Cuban revolutionists have won and the established government has lost. Fulgencio Batista, Cuban president, has fled to the Dominican Republic — and that would indicate he has conceded the success of the revolution. But it is still too early to be positive.

Like the battle against sin, the revolution in Cuba goes on and on. Fidel Castro didn't have to overthrow the Batista regime to win. It would lose if it could destroy him and his revolutionary followers.

There are more of these now, apparently, than there were a year ago. Certainly there are more than there were five years ago, when Castro was a student agitator.

Many observers have tried to put into words what he stands for in his role as a revolutionist, without marked success. But there is no difficulty in describing what he stands against — the dictatorship of Fulgencio Batista, who has dominated Cuban politics for more than 25 years.

It may be, as Batista says, that Castro's followers include criminals and Communists. They may be all the things their critics say they are. But essentially they are Cubans opposed to the continuation of Batista, and in that opinion they have been gaining converts rapidly enough to hold their own in a war of attrition.

Moreover, there have been persistent reports that Cuban soldiers do not like to go into action against their fellow countrymen and that middle-class and professional elements in the population, convinced that Batista cannot put down the revolution, are beginning to find merit in Castro as the likeliest means of restoring stability.

The United States, once committed to intervene in Cuban politics, is staying out of the clash, though it has been obliged to help the government in power in the same way it must help all established governments which it recognizes. Its interest in Cuba is twofold — first as a strategic location in national defense plans, second as a source of sugar.

The sugar harvest begins this month. It had been evident for a long time that if the Batista regime could not keep Castro and his followers from interfering with the harvest, it would have no claim on perpetuity. Cuban governments exist primarily to make certain that nothing can happen to the sugar crop.

There were some who suspected the Batista regime's primary interest had been to make certain that nothing could happen to the U S.-supported gambling industry in Cuba —a suspicion confirmed by the fact the gambling casinos were the first targets of revolutionary wrath when revolutionists began to run riot in Havana.

They May Not Love Each Other

By this time next year, according to diplomatic prospects, the remarriage of the two Germanys either will have been negotiated by their guardians, or the guardians will have gone to war over the deadlock.

It is a bone-chilling prospect the diplomats have painted — and among those most horrified by it are many citizens of West Germany and East Germany who do not want either end of the choice.

Only recently has it crossed the minds of their guardians that reunification of Germany, which the guardians have held out as the rosiest of all possible hopes, may have no appeal for West Germans and East Germans.

Having learned how to live separately, thanks to the guardians who would not let them live together, they may have learned to like the idea more than the thought of going through the upheaval that would be necessary if they were to be reunited.

If it were the purpose of the Soviet Union's recent policy to reveal that East Germany could not be reunited with West Germany, it could not have chosen a more direct path to a showdown than by approaching a clash with the United States, Great Britain and France over the status of Berlin.

This will force a general review of the status of Germany, itself. The review will be meaningless without discussion of German reunification. And the question of reunification will raise the vital question of opinion among the Germans, themselves.

It may be like one of those marriages arranged by parents, in which everybody has been consulted but the potential bride and groom who, in the showdown, refuse to have anything to do with each other. West Germany may not want to give up what it has acquired since World War II to share its lot with East Germany. And the further fact is that the Germans who have stayed in East Germany may show favor for the Communists who have had 12 years to teach them the obedience expected of citizens in a totalitarian state.

Russia's ultimatum of Nov. 27 demanding Allied withdrawal from West Berlin within six months has lit a time fuse on the most explosive issue created by the loose-end settlement of World War II. It cannot be postponed. One way or another, the issue is going to be settled in 1959.

But instead of a choice between German reunification and war, it might be a choice between war and the retention of two Germanys, with Berlin continuing to be the central point of contact between them.

Berlin Would Be Worse Than Sarajevo

Whatever may have prompted Foreign Minister Gromyko to compare the potentialities of tension in Berlin with the tension that erupted in Sarajevo in 1914 and caused World War I was not a happy thought for a Russian leader.

The Serb student nationalists who killed Archduke Francis Ferdinand in 1914 were not the cause of World War I. They were an excuse to precipitate a clash between Russia and Austria, with the latter pressing the issue.

The issue was not the death of an archduke but control of the Balkans, and Russia, as it was to turn out, was caught short. When World War I ended in 1918, Russia had gone through a revolution and been forced to its knees by Germany, Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey in the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk.

There were no winners in World War I or World War II. The 20th century tragedy that began at Sarajevo in midsummer of 1914 continues to this day in the crushing burden of armament that must still be borne after two great wars and an uncertain peace which sometimes appears to be little more than a truce.

Perhaps Foreign Minister Gromyko is able to believe another Sarjevo would be no threat to his government but would injure only Russia's adversaries. If so, he is the only one able to believe it.

There would be no winners in World War III, either. Every participant, including the nations that claimed the victory, would lose more than it could afford to lose, and chief among them would be modern Russia, whose shaky government would have collapsed in World War II had it not been for the assistance it received from its Western Allies.

There would be no Western Allies in a conflict over Berlin.

There would be only another Sarajevo—starting place for a world disaster that would hurt Russia as much as Russia could hurt its enemies. It is hard to imagine what made Foreign Minister Gromyko think of such a spooky term of reference. Every Russian should be scared stiff.

Galion's Income Tax

City income tax critics in Marion need look no farther than the neighboring city of Galion to see one of the many Ohio cities that apparently are quite happy with the tax.

Galion's City Council Wednesday afternoon passed emergency legislation renewing the tax for another three years.

The tax originally was placed in effect at Galion in April, 1956, by emergency action of council, went to a referendum vote in November of the same year and was approved by a wide margin.

It is extremely significant that the tax has proved such a distinct success in Galion that it was renewed by council Wednesday with complete confidence the will of the majority of people was being expressed.

We congratulate Galion's council and its citizens for their approval of the tax and for the forward-looking civic program made possible by it.

We hope the day will come when the tax is that strongly entrenched in Marion.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

How about a Society for a Less Brutal Disposal of the Christmas Tree? First days of January see it a victim of unnecessary roughness, "clipping" and personal foul.

The adoration and reverence expressed through the Christmas tree are not easily reconciled with a tree stripped bare in a trash can, gutter or on a public dump. Its disposal should be less hasty.

The "who cares?" mood should be avoided. Maybe the society suggested above is necessary with the following code:

1. Never dispose of a Christmas tree in the "heave-hot" spirit. It is not junk. This is a tree that made children's hearts beat faster and filled the house with love. In its spell you saw God, the Christ-child, Mary, Joseph and the shepherds. "Peace on earth" echoed through its branches.

2. Don't toss the tree into the gutter. If you can do this you are capable of throwing the paper Star of Bethlehem into the street.

3. The trash can is no place for it, except in apartment house areas where no other method of removal is possible. A Christmas tree in a rubbish can is like a once-treasured love letter in the garbage, or a recording of a great song of Christendom in a Tin Pan Alley wastebasket.

4. Whatever you do with it, handle it tenderly. The few glorious hours in which it brought a blessing to your fireside should save it from the abrupt "out with it" routine. It should rate higher than a busted lampshade, an old umbrella or last year's hat.

5. Dismantle it prayerfully, carry it into the back yard carefully and burn it with whispered words of gratitude for what it meant to your home. In the smoke curling heavenward you will sense a respectful departure, the aroma of the burning needles smelling a little like frankincense.

This tree put into the eyes of a child a light you may never see again, sent parents back over a memory lane of enchantment and brought to old folks visions of a far-gone day of enraptured childhood.

Power of Faith

By Howard Brodie

The separate faiths of three friends, a rabbi, a minister and a priest, have united to promote good will and religious understanding in Fresno, Calif., and then around the world.

Rabbi David Greenberg and Msgr. James Dowling became friends while doing social work among cotton pickers and growers in the Valley.

Joined by Dean James Malloch, the three went to work on the problem of juvenile delinquency in their area and achieved notable results.

Realizing that a lack of knowledge caused prejudice and hate, they began a Radio Forum of Better Understanding that is now in its 20th year and is broadcast to Europe, South America and the Orient by the Voice of America.

Although they differ on tenets of faith, they stand together in a common purpose.

"Our purpose is to promote the understanding," said the dean.

"And to fortify religion," said the Rabbi.

"We feel that religion is necessary for the stabilization of the family and the nation," said the Priest.

Capitalism's Bounty

By David Lawrence

Sometimes we overlook the obvious—the things for which we ought to be thankful as we come to a new year. One thing we often overlook is the success of what might be called "people's capitalism."

Lawrence

The other day the financial tickers told the world that the stock of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.—had been "split" in three parts. It promptly rose in value on the stock exchanges.

Maybe the newspapers in Moscow thought it only a routine item in the press of a country where capitalism prevails.

Actually, it was a powerful counter-argument to Communism and it's unfortunate that the people of the Soviet Union can't be told what it really means.

Without a single dollar put up by the government of the United States, the people themselves have invested their money in and become owners of the largest and most successful single private business in the whole world.

Although the vast majority of telephone systems in other countries are owned and operated by the government, the United States has more telephones than the rest of the world put together. There is no cleaner or clearer example of private enterprise than AT&T.

TRUE THE government must approve the rates charged the customers and also takes a hand if any improper practices toward competitors should emerge but basically the telephone business is a private business.

Its investment in plant and equipment totals more than 23 billion dollars and it employs 700,000 persons.

Its owners are more than 1,564,000 individuals and 61,000 institutions. This total includes more than 250,000 employes in the industry itself.

No financial group owns any controlling interest. The stockholders elect their directors who, in turn, select the management. Nothing like it of such size exists anywhere else in the world.

The AT&T and its affiliates comprise 23 companies, serving 55,800,000 phones.

There are 3,900 independent companies. These serve about 9,700,000 phones—or nearly three times as many as in the whole of the Soviet Union. They, too, do an efficient job in the private enterprise system that provides the United States with 54 per cent of all the telephones in the world.

To appreciate the great value of the modern telephone service to business, one must travel in many other countries where communication is almost primitive.

The number of telephones in the entire Soviet Union is about 3,558,000 as of January 1958. This is less than New York City's 4,204,000.

Moscow has 450,000 phones for its nearly five million population, compared with Washington's 582,000 phones for 830,000 residents.

BUSINESS MOVES faster in America than anywhere else because a multiplicity of transactions is made possible through telephone communication.

Someday some ingenious statistician may be able to figure out how many more hours a day the citizen of our times gets out of life because of the telephone than was possible 100 years earlier.

Not long ago Robert Lincoln O'Brien, who was personal secretary to President Cleveland, was telling this correspondent how the engagements were made with persons invited by Mr. Cleveland to come to the White House for conferences and how the President gave him important messages to other government officials to be delivered orally.

Mr. O'Brien said he actually spent whole days at this task. For he had to get into a carriage and drive around the national capital going from office to office. There was no telephone service then.

What does the telephone business mean to the American economy? The payroll and other payments to employes of the AT&T totalled more than three billion dollars in the first nine months of 1958. More than a billion dollars was paid in 1957 to subcontracts and supphers for materials and services.

Here, therefore, is an enterprise managed privately and owned privately which is bigger than any single business in the Soviet Union and, in fact, bigger than many of the "collectivist" enterprises of the Soviets put together.

Who gets the benefit of this enormous investment? The people of America and some investors from abroad for annually the AT&T pays out big sums in dividends on its stock and interest on its bonds more than 600 million dollars to shareholders in 1958. These stockholders are for the most part persons of modest means—the vast majority are not rich people. Owners of stock include about 344,000 men and 723,000 women, with 498,000 "joint account" ownerships. Institutions hold only about one-fifth of the company's shares.

PLAINLY HERE is something for the American system of people's capitalism to crow about. It is an example to hold up not only to the people of the Soviet Union but to other Communist countries.

Indeed, it is a lesson in economics that ought never be brushed aside by the socialistically inclined politicians within the Western countries. For private initiative is in the long run better for the worker, better for the investor and better for the people as a whole.

As 1959 opens and millions of individuals wish each other a Happy New Year over the telephone, they might remind themselves that the telephone is in itself a dramatic symbol of free enterprise in a free country.

Triple Challenge

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK — Life holds a triple challenge these days for Kathryn Grant, the young wife of singer Bing Crosby.

It has given her three roles to play—all at the same time. She is a busy mother, a busy actress, and she is busy studying physiology because she wants to get a degree as a registered nurse.

HAL BOYLE

Although she is a bit reluctant to discuss it, she is quite serious in her ambition to learn nursing.

"A nurse learns discipline, and how to give service with her hands," she said. "This is a very satisfying feeling. I think it will be a big help to me in my domestic life."

THE TEXAS-BORN beauty came here for public appearances preliminary to the release of her 17th film, which was shot in Spain.

Even wearing a black chemise dress and with her dark hair drawn back into "a severe chignon"—her words—Kathryn still looks startlingly young. She still feels her youthful look is something of a burden in her professional career.

"This is the real handicap—the round face," she said. "My husband says I can't get away yet with playing a well-kept broad. Actually, I'm a hag of 25."

Her visit here left Kathryn — she doesn't like to be called Kathy—homesick for Crosby and their 4-month-old son, Harry Lillis Crosby Jr.

"We call him 'Tex' or 'Little Mouse' or 'Little Man,'" she said. "Bing calls him 'Little Drunk' because of the expression he gets after finishing his bottle. He just sits there contemplating his navel."

MISS GRANT'S marriage to the celebrated crooner was regarded as a real Cinderella romance by movie fans, but she doesn't like to break the privacy of her present home life.

"So many people ask me what Bing is really like," she said.

"Actually Bing is exactly the kind of person most people think he is.

"He is a heavenly father. He sings incessantly around the house, and he loves to sing to the baby.

"Church means a great deal to him. It does to both of us."

In meeting the problems of her triple life—as wife, actress and student nurse—Kathryn says she likes to remember two sayings of her own mother:

"Do the best you can.

"You can do anything you have to."

Then she added: "Happiness is an elusive term, but I feel I am a woman fulfilled."

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: I trust you entered the new year without tripping over its drooping diaper. It's important to keep you in top condition in 1959, because this is the year we're going to shoot you to the moon.

At my age, everything seems possible. Nothing is too far-fetched to believe. It makes good sense to me that we'll be shooting people to the moon this year, and I am astonished we didn't pop a few moonward in good old 1958.

Mark you, I said "moonward." We're going to lose a lot of moon travelers before insurance companies ask permission to put in their bet-you-arrive safely coin machines at Cape Canaveral.

There will be no shortage of volunteers at first, but once the word gets around there's no place like home in the nose cone of a rocket and no chance to come back home and write "I Was a Rocket Rider" for Satevepost, with movie rights tied up in a package deal, rocketeers will have to get passengers the hard way.

They will be selected by lot, and you have as good a chance as anyone to be the next patriot to have the honor of beating your Russian counterpart into the Great Beyond. I wouldn't want you to be lurking in bed with a sprained eucalyptus when your chance came.

It is to be expected we will lose all our moon men for the first few years. That is the way it was with the fly-boys. Even the earthmen who risk everything in automobiles still die like flies. Water travelers have to be reported missing sometimes, too. It's all in the game. Travel is risky business.

But there are some intriguing possibilities in space travel. Let's say we lob you Out Yonder and you go into permanent orbit around some celestial refrigerator. Time will stand still for you, in a manner of speaking, and when we bring you back with a twist of the skyhooks we'll be using by 2000 you can be your own grandchild. How about that? Maybe I'll get a chance ta serve Science and can be my own great-great-grandchild, which would be bingo for the space-time ratio.

Your wry-witted aunt, who has been reading this over my shoulder, says I am beginning to act the part, a remark I construe to mean she thinks my hairspring has gone hung up on my balance wheel. But she is wrong about my childishness, which is not as advanced as she has been saying it was for the last 30 years. Anyway, I'm harmless — just a happy-go-lucky old pot who picks up an easy buck every Dec. 31 playing the Old Year in pageants honoring the New Year.

I never could figure out what's so big about being a baby. Everybody was a baby once. The big thing is to run the obstacle course and survive to be a rare old party like me, with all your moving parts still in motion.

"Especially the mouth," snorts the lady who sharpens my scythe and wets my whetstone. "It never stops."

OK, it never stops. I figure if I keep it in perpetual motion maybe something will come out of it worth remembering, like the monkey that might write "Hamlet," if he was locked up in a room with a typewriter and plenty of paper.

We are having a happy new year here so far, but on the other hand nothing has come up so far to make it unhappy. Maybe that's the secret — to stall off the unhappy stuff. Regards to the Cotton Corners UNCLE GEORGE family.

Starting Sunday at the Palace Theater will be the fantasy "Tom Thumb," starring Russ Tamblyn, Alan Young and June Thorburn. Also playing Sunday through Wednesday will be a horror tale, "The Lost Missile."

The beloved Grimm fairy tale is brought to life in a combination of animated cartoon action and live action. The story is about the miniature Tom Thumb who is befriended by the village piper, who wins the love of the beautiful Forest Queen. Gigantic sets were employed to make the five foot, five inch Russ Tamblyn look like the five and one-half inch Tom Thumb. Fifty cartoon characters add to the enjoyment of this story.

"The Lost Missile" is the story of a renegade missile traveling at 5,000 miles an hour, lost in space. The missile, whirling around the world, destroys everything in a swath 10 miles wide, leaving only death and desolation. How the missile is finally destroyed as it nears New York City is the exciting climax of this science-fiction thriller.

Starting Thursday will be "Paratroop Command" and "Submarine Sea Hawk". "Paratroop Command" stars Leo Genn and introduces Susan Stephen. This is the true story of the paratroop raids that probed the Normandy coast in advance of the Allied invasions in World War II and helped to smash enemy resistance in the center of the North African coast.

Playing the toughest commando of them all is Alan Ladd.

PRANCING TOM THUMB. Russ Tamblyn stars in the movie version of the beloved Grimm's fairy tale, "Tom Thumb." Here he goes through one of the many routines in the fun-packed musical. Alan Young appears as the village piper who befriends Tom. The cast is packed with personalities, including 50 cartoon characters. The movie will run Sunday through Wednesday at the Palace theater.

Cleveland Woman Attempts To Fight Deportation Order

CLEVELAND (AP) — Pretty Mrs. Nina Caldarevic, 21, who came here in August, 1957 from Yugoslavia on a year's visa, is lobbying desperately for a private bill in the coming U S. Congress.

She wants a bill to save her from deportation, along with her 3-year-old son Dudo. Their deportation to Yugoslavia is scheduled for next Thursday.

Last February her husband Zaltko came here from Zagreb to take her home. That was two months before the birth of their daughter Marina, who would be allowed to stay in this country, since her birth makes her a citizen.

When Mrs. Caldarevic refused to leave her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Anthony Zuk of Cleveland, her husband returned to Zagreb alone. After he got there, she said, he divorced her.

Weeping, Mrs. Caldarevic appealed Friday to Rep. Charles Vanik, but he could not help her, he said, because she is not from his district. She lives in the district of Rep. Michael A. Feighan to whom she told her story several weeks ago. Sunday, she said, she will try to contact Sen. Frank J. Lausche.

The first country park commission in the nation was founded by Essex County, N J., in 1895. It now operates 21 parks covering 5,000 acres located in a compact metropolitan area.

Woman Says She Shot Her Husband

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — A Franklin housewife who says she was forced to beg food for their six children is in custody in the shooting of her husband.

Sheriff Richard Satterthwaite said Mrs. Pauline Collins, 32, shot her husband Joe, 48, in the back Friday night with a 20-gauge shotgun.

Investigators quoted the woman as saying her mill-worker husband refused to give her money and the shooting ended a long-standing string of arguments between the couple.

No charge was filed immediately.

Mrs. Collins had filed warrants last week against her husband, charging assault, non-support and disorderly conduct.

Jugular Vein Severed, Man Lives 18 Hours

CLEVELAND (AP)—Joseph J. Karoleski, 44, of Parma succumbed early today in a hospital—18 hours and 20 minutes after his jugular vein was severed. Doctors were surprised he had survived that long with such a condition.

Karoleski was working on a lathe in the forge plant of the Aluminum Co. of America in Cuyahoga Heights Friday when the machine hurled a sharp cylinder of metal, slicing across his neck.

A quick-thinking fellow worker, William Pagan, thrust his hand into the blood-gushing hole and pressed to slow the bleeding.

Minutes later in the emergency room of Metropolitan General Hospital, Karoleski's heart stopped beating and doctors opened his chest and massaged the heart until the beating resumed.

Surgeons found that besides the jugular vein, several main arteries were cut in the accident.

CANDLELIGHT formed the setting for the double ring ceremony which united Miss Nancy Lee Hammond and Larry Andrew Mumper in marriage Dec. 21 in the Central Christian Church on Mt. Vernon Ave.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Hammond of 285 Duluth Ave. and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin A. Mumper of Loudonville.

The Rev. C. Edward Weber, pastor of the Central Christian Church, officiated for the 4:30 p.m. ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore the bridal dress in which her sister, Mrs. M. G. Shryock of Arlington Heights, Ill., was married. The floor-length gown was of white satin and tulle fashioned with a scoop neckline outlined with lace and iridescent paillettes. The long sleeves extended in points over the hands.

THE LACE paillettes with pearls were repeated on the bouffant skirt of tulle worn over hoops. Her fingertip veil of English illusion fell from a double coronet embroidered with pearls.

The bride carried a white orchid corsage framed against a background of white velvet petals and holly leaves.

Miss Jane Hammond, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor. Other attendants were the bridegroom's sister, Miss Elaine Mumper, a student at Ashland College, and Mrs. Harold B. Hammond, sister-in-law of the bride.

The three attendants wore identical dresses of dark green velvet designed in empire styling. The scoop necklines formed a V in the back where a velvet bow was attached with streamers falling to the hem of the dress.

A corsage of red roses with white velvet petals to match those of the bride's corsage was carried by each attendant. The women also wore holly in their hair.

The junior bridesmaid, Miss Sharon Kauffman of Loudonville, niece of the bridegroom, wore a green velvet dress styled like the other attendants' outfits except for a bouffant skirt.

Miss Kauffman also wore a sprig of holly in her hair. With a corsage of red roses she carried the white Bible belonging to the bride's grandmother.

THE FLOWER GIRLS, Misses Betty and Anne Ioerger, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ioerger, wore identical dresses with a bodice of Christmas red and full white nylon skirt of an appliqued design. Their hair was styled in pony-tails, held with sprigs of holly.

M. G. Shryock of Arlington Heights, Ill., brother-in-law of the bride, served as best man. The bride's brother, Harold B. Hammond, and George Powell, fraternity brother of the bridegroom, were ushers.

Mrs. Larry A. Mumper

The candle tapers were lit by the bride's young brother Jon and her cousin, Tom Hammond of Bellefontaine.

For the ceremony the bride's mother chose a suit of candlelight moire with matching hat and bag. Her corsage was of red roses.

The groom's mother wore a sheath dress of light blue jersey with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Virgil Curl presided at the organ and David Jenkins sang several selections.

Floor baskets at the altar were filled with red poinsettias against a background of palms and lighted tapers. Cascades of holly and bows of white satin ribbon marked the family pews.

A reception for 150 guests in the church parlors followed the ceremony. Hostesses were Mrs. Lee Hammond of Bellefontaine, Mrs. Wayne Wachtel of Wooster, Mrs. Shryock, the bride's sister; Miss Carol Bennett of Mount Gilead, Miss Nancy Dowler and Mrs. Donald Almendinger. The bride's parents entertained out-of-town guests and friends at an open house following the reception.

When the couple left by train for Cleveland, the bride was wearing a biege jersey outfit with brown accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. The couple is now at home at 406 E. Church St.

THE BRIDE is a 1954 graduate of Harding High School. She attended Colby College in Missouri and was graduated from Ohio Northern University. She is a member of Phi Chi Sorority and presently teaches at George Washing School here.

Mr. Mumper was graduated from Loudonville High School in 1954. He formerly attended Ohio State University and is now enrolled at Ohio Northern University where he is majoring in education. He is affiliated with Sigma Phi Epsilon social fraternity.

Miss Hammond's spinster party was held the evening of Dec. 19 at Hotel Harding.

A buffet supper served at the Hammond home followed the wedding rehearsal Saturday evening, Dec. 20. The bride and bridegroom presented gifts to their attendants at this time.

Tracts of Land Sold at Auction In Courthouse

Two tracts of land, one of which contains the now defunct Town and Country Supply Co. four miles east of Marion on Rt. 30-S, were sold at public auction at the Courthouse this morning for $28,800.

Bernhard Peterson of 708 Vernon Heights Blvd., chairman of the board of the Na-Churs Plant Food Co., paid $22,700 for an 11.7-acre tract containing the former store building, a seven-room frame house, a two-stall garage and small barn. Appraised value was $22,000.

A 6.3-acre tract, divided into 10 lots and containing a four-room tenant house, was bought for $6,100 by Raymond E. Baldauf, Richard R. Baldauf and Howard F. Jones, doing business as Central Machinery. The tract was appraised at $5,000.

The property formerly was owned and operated by Mrs. Betty Raab. It was sold by order of the referee in bankruptcy of the U.S. District Court at Toledo. John S. Stuckey was trustee in bankruptcy and L. M. Wickersham was auctioneer.

The sale attracted a crowd of nearly 100 persons outside the east door of the Courthouse.

Deadline Nearing For Farmers To File Tax Returns

Farmers have until Jan. 15 to file their estimated federal income tax return for the year 1958, unless they plan to file their final return by no later than Feb. 15.

That's the word today from Nathaniel Looker, Columbus district director for the Internal Revenue Service. He said that farmers who file an estimated return and pay the tax due have until April 15 to file a final return. Otherwise they must file the final return by Feb. 15, he said.

This option is open only to those who derive two-thirds or more of their gross income from farming, he said.

Farmers who did not file returns last year, or for some other reason have not received necessary forms for 1958 through the mail, may obtain the blank forms from the local office of IRS located in Marion City Hall or from the post office or banks.

Any farmer who has questions concerning his income tax return may obtain a copy of the official publication, "Farmer's Tax Guide" from his county farm agent or by writing to the Columbus District Internal Revenue office, Mr. Looker said.

He noted that everyone who had a gross income of $600 or more must file a federal income tax return for 1958. The only exceptions are persons 65 or over who are not required to file unless their gross income was $1,200 or more.

The local office of the IRS on the third floor of City Hall is open on Fridays only for taxpayer assistance.

Youth Faces Two Charges After Mishap

BUCYRUS — A Galion youth, charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and failure to stop within assured clear distance, was held overnight at the Galion City Jail after his auto set off a three-car accident on Rt. 19.

Investigating patrolmen of the Bucyrus post said the mishap was one of two accidents which took place Friday on Rt. 19.

Thomas A. Unckrich, 18, of Galion was arrested on the two counts after his auto plowed into the rear end of a westbound vehicle driven by Richard O. Runge, 22, of Galion, and sent the Runge car into another driven by Robert P. Thomas Jr., 16, of Galion.

Patrolmen said all three autos were considerably damaged. The accident occurred one-half mile west of Galion at 11:30 p.m.

According to the report, Unckrich had been involved in a mishap inside the Galion city limits shortly before the accident on Rt. 19.

Donald R. Thoman, 19, of Galion was charged with unsafe operation and cited to appear in Crestline Mayor's Court following the second mishap.

It occurred four miles east of Bucyrus at 9:30 p.m. when Thoman's westbound auto failed to negotiate a curve and tore down 100 feet of fence and six posts, badly damaging the car.

Patrolmen said the fence was owned by Winfred Ehmann of near Bucyrus.

Home Chores Prepare Boys For Manhood

Early Training Helps Teach Child Caution, Develops Vital Skills

By The Associated Press

Take advantage of your little boy's yen to be a man by giving him some large chores to do. It will be one way to put over important points like safety and home care.

Most little fellows grow up with small knowledge of how their home operates. That's why so many young husbands flinch at the shock of maintaining a home.

In these days of help shortage, every good husband should have a basic knowledge of plumbing, electricity and carpentry for it is handy in emergencies.

Help With Housework

A small boy can help with mopping, vacuuming, window washing and even dish washing, small chores that will acquaint him with the home and its upkeep. It shouldn't make a sissy out of him if he engages in sports, also.

Dad can teach his boy a few things about the home that may save his life some day. In 1957 more than 7,100 children were killed in home accidents, and there were 150 non-fatal accidents for every fatal one.

Things a boy may be taught include:

How to change a fuse and dangers connected with certain electrical wires. Boys who are curious about wall sockets should be shown the positive and negative wires, "the hot line" as electricians refer to it. Once he understands, he may steer clear of it.

He should be instructed, too, about the dangers of water and electricity, and electrocution that may result from this combination, particularly stepping into a flooded cellar and turning on the electric switch.

Power Tool Instruction

Dangers connected with power tools and mowers should be explained. Ditto how to batten down articles in the event of strong winds, and why.

A young child should be taught about animals and snakes, particularly if he lives in the country. He shouldn't fear those that can't hurt him and serve a useful purpose in the world of nature. He should learn, too, how to avoid animals until he has sized them up.

In these days of traveling fathers, the mother is offered an opportunity to show a little fellow how to be a host in the home. One mother makes each little boy take over and play "daddy" when the man of the house is away. In this role he learns to pull back dining chairs for his sisters, to pass a tray now and then, to light the dinner candles.

When company comes, he greets them at the door, takes hats and coats. And don't think he'll look silly bowing to his elders when he is a small child. Manners of that sort are dying out, one reason why so many nice little boys grow up to be big boors.

Handy Desks Can Be Made From Radios

There is a good use for that old console radio now that your television set has assumed the place of honor in your living room or den.

Let the home handyman convert it into a writing desk with shelves.

Here's how to do it:

If the finish on the exterior is in good condition and matches your other furnishings, you may need only refinish the interior. Remove the insides of the cabinet and add shelves. Shellac the unfinished wood, letting it dry thoroughly.

Then line the inside walls and shelving with one of the new decorative covering materials. One plastic coated material with an adhesive backing is ideal for the job. Just cut the washable material in the size pieces required. Remove the protective backing to expose the adhesive and press the covering into place.

When completed, place the front of the cabinet, where dials and knobs are located, against the wall so that the decorated shelves are exposed to view.

The new decorative covering materials come in a variety of colors and patterns to blend with the decor of your rooms.

Brazil is a federal union of 20 states. Its constitution is similar to that of the United States.

First Aid to the Ailing House

By ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: I am at a loss to know of a way to rid my cottage of a nest of bees which is in a corner of the attic, under the gable. Do you know of any way I can get rid of the bees?

A: I recommend having a reputable professional exterminator do the job. This is an extremely dangerous job and should be attempted only if the entire body is protected by bee netting and gloves combined with thick clothing which stings will not penetrate. Spray the entrance of the nest with aerosol spray or hand spray, using insecticide containing pyrethrum and synergists, as well as either DDT or lindane. This will destroy, or at least stun, the insects and the nest should be taken down after a little while, placed in a paper bag immediately, the opening twisted to imprison the bees, and bag and nest burned. Fumigating the attic by burning a sulphur candle (be very careful of fire hazard) is often effective.

Q: We are refinishing an old but good piano. Is there a way to whiten the yellowed ivory keys?

A: If the piano keys have yellowed throughout from age, I know of no way to whiten them. Yellowing from this cause can be checked by leaving the keyboard exposed to light two or three hours weekly. To remove yellow stains on the surfaces of the keys, wipe with alcohol and powdered chalk or peroxide. Plastic piano keys can be used to cover the yellowed keys.

Q: The open fireplace in an old house we are buying is of brick discolored from the soot and smoke of log fires. Is there any way to clean this and restore its appearance?

A: Try scrubbing with a stiff brush or steel wool and a mechanic's hand soap containing sand, rinsing thoroughly afterward with clear water. If soiling still remains, rub brick surfaces with a carborundum block, available at paint or hardware stores. This requires a lot of "elbow grease." After being cleaned (and dried), the brickwork can be greatly enriched by applying a soaking coat of raw linseed oil. Try this first, however, on an inconspicuous brick to see how you like the effect, as the color may be darkened somewhat. This treatment also helps keep the brickwork clean.

Q: Mold is developing in our basement and there is a constant musty odor. There are no signs of moisture on the floor. The house is only a few years old; made of brick. How can we remedy this condition?

A: The damp condition causing the growth of mold should be eliminated. Areas showing mold should be scrubbed with a stiff brush and a solution of a household chlorine bleach, or with a mildew-proofing preparation available from boat supply dealers and some hardware and department stores. Then apply a couple of coats of a dampproof cement base paint to the walls. If summer condensation caused the condition, use a dehumidifier.

Q: The windows in my apartment in a very old house don't fit tight and there are a lot of drafts coming in through openings around the frames. Is there any way to close up these openings?

A: Inexpensive weatherstripping of various types for this purpose is now available at hardware and housewares dealers; some of it is puttylike, others are of fiber glass or foam rubber. "Stuffing" the cracks is easy; get the best "stuffing" suited to your particular needs. Variety stores also carry this item.

Flat Roofs Boring, Homemakers Say

Architects and home builders please note:

Flat roofs have struck a sour note with the American housewife.

This fact is prominent in a roundup of the clear-cut dislikes of the hundreds of housewife delegates to congresses sponsored by the government and private industry to find out what women want in their future homes.

Why have they condemned flat roofs? "Very boring," said some delegates. "No attic storage space," said others. "Too hot inside," commented some. "Makes a house look like a pill box," complained one.

Many builders and architects from coast to coast agree. Some developers used pitched roofs exclusively to stress individuality with colorful shingles.

In addition, studies have shown that a house built with a flat roof usually costs more to construct than one built with a pitched roof.

Winter Affords No Rest For Garden Enthusiasts

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHAPPAQUA, N.Y. — Time was when the week-end gardener could spend the pleasant outdoor months in active pursuit of his hobby and the pleasant indoor months cosily thumbing seed catalogues, drawing plans and reading books with titles like "The Secret of Succession of Bloom," or "How to Make Absolutely Perfect Plant Food."

This idyllic balance of the indoor-outdoor life is becoming increasingly difficult to maintain. In this world of magic chemicals, lawn-keeping and garden-tending are becoming all-season avocations. Some of the most effective fertilizers are best spread when the ground is frozen solid and when there is snow on the ground. A newly developed weed-killer is only useful when applied during the winter months.

ADDED TO THESE new areas of winter gardening are the familiar old ones: painting and repairing outdoor furniture, tending and feeding the house plants, preparing and planting the seed flats and feeding the birds. Sometimes it seems as if the gardener is busier during the winter than at planting time.

Feeding the birds is one regular chore which, even though difficult in bad weather, is especially rewarding. We have three seed feeders and two fat feeders, all easily seen from the living room windows.

When the ground is open, the seed feeders must be refilled every second day; when there is snow covering birds' usual sources of food supplies, it becomes an every day job.

We buy bird seed by the 100-pound bag and store it in a large metal container with a tight-fitting lid—it is less expensive purchased in quantity. The fat feeders hold chunks of suet scrounged from the butcher or cut off roasts and steaks.

We also save pan drippings in an empty coffee can. When the can is half full the fat is melted and a quantity of bird seed mixed in. Hardened again and stuffed into shallow, large holes bored into a short log, the fat and seed mixture is relished by the wild birds.

MANY OF the winter birds feed on berries during the cold weather and whenever a new shrub is required on my land, I try to put in something which will be enjoyed by the birds as well as by humans. Honeysuckle, mulberry, hawthorn —all these and more are in my shrub border—with the consequence there are birds around all through the year.

We live close by a brook, so water for the birds is never our responsibility, but bird-watchers without open water can provide a steady supply with a bird bath high enough to discourage cats. A few drops of glycerine will keep the water from freezing.

Television Set May Produce Heat Problem

Having thermostat trouble?

Might be the television set is to blame.

A television set, in the course of an evening's operation, generates a lot of heat. If the set is close to the thermostat, it will give the instrument a false sense of the comfort conditions in the room and in the house generally.

There's another way in which a television sets affects the operation of a thermostat, according to the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau.

The combination of wall-to-wall carpeting and a television set will create dust, dirt and lint which will find its way to the contact points of the thermostat. Result. The thermostat will not function at all or it will work improperly.

Modern thermostats have sealed contact points which cannot be affected by dirt, dust or lint. Thus the design of the modern thermostat has eliminated about 80 per cent of the trouble which householders experience with older models.

Modern thermostats are lighter in weight and thus provide better air circulation with greater sensitivity.

Clark Metz Opens Real Estate Agency in Marion

The opening of the Clark G. Metz real estate agency at 127 S. State St. was announced today by Mr. Metz.

Clark G. Metz

Mr. Metz formerly was a partner with Wilson Jones in the Jones - Metz agency on E. Center St., but the partnership was formally dissolved at the start of the new year with Mr. Jones going into semi-retirement.

Mr. Metz started in the real estate business in 1939 when he became a salesman for Mr. Jones. In 1941 he went to work as a brakeman on the Erie Railroad, but in 1947 returned to the real estate business and became a partner with Mr. Jones.

Mr. Metz is married and has one son. He and his family reside at 971 Barks Rd. E.

Dual Purpose Area in Cellar Can Be Useful

A large area in the basement or a utility room of a new home can be used as a dual purpose laundry-recreation room if layout and decoration are carefully considered.

Compact washer and dryer units can be installed at one end of the room, and a divider in the form of a partial wall, folding screen or combination work-hobby table can be used to separate the sections of the room.

The decor can emphasize the division if different colors are used to point out the various areas within the room. Since the room will be subject to hard wear with both laundry and recreation functions, it should be paneled with an extremely durable and colorful material.

Utility room walls covered with plastic - finished paneling are attractive because predecorated hardboard is available at lumber dealers in plain colors, woodgrains and marble patterns. The paneling is extremely serviceable, especially around the appliances, because its smooth plastic finish can be wiped clean with a damp cloth.

It is highly resistant to heat, moisture, stains and other causes of deterioration and never needs refinishing.

Green and yellow are the season's most popular colors and they can be combined effectively in this room. Yellow panels are bright and cheerful and can be used in the laundry area, while yellow and green are combined for vitality in the recreation area.

YOUR HOME . . . Today and Tomorrow

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

About the worst problem there is in connection with houses is water in the basement or cellar. There are so many complaints about this condition and it is so well known nationally, that the house with a wet condition beneath it is very hard to sell and almost impossible to rent.

Some years ago there was not much that could be done to correct a wet cellar except dig down around the foundation and waterproof the walls from the footings up. In many cases this did not work, in spite of the heavy expense involved, because it is simply impossible to get under the cellar floor and waterproof that as well.

Things have changed however, and there are now several waterproofers that can be used on the foundation walls on the inside and on the floor as well.

These interior waterproofers all work on more or less the same theory. There is a penetrating carrier or liquid in which there is a fine substance which expands after the carrier has taken it into the masonry. This substance expands when wet and plugs up the pores or microscopic holes in concrete and cement blocks. Once it has expanded it does not shrink again. The net result is that the masonry to which it is applied becomes very dense and waterproof.

We have seen cellars that literally oozed water through every pore which have been made as tight as a drum with one of these compounds. On the other hand, we have seen cellars where the same material had been used and the results were poor, but in every one of these cases the instructions for the use of the material had not been followed out.

You cannot apply any good waterproofer over a coat of whitewash or paint and expect it to work. You might just as well try to paint a house while it is raining.

7% Production Gain Is Noted in Prefab Homes

The nation's prefabricated home manufacturers rode a boom in low-priced homes to a seven per cent production gain in 1958 — 67,000 units vs. 62,700 in 1957.

This is the finding of the sixth annual survey of prefabrication by House & Home, business magazine of the housing industry. Despite this gain, the magazine's survey of 125 house manufacturers shows that prefabs still accounted for only 7.5 per cent of the year's estimated 890,000 new single-family, non-farm houses. The year's output also falls short of the record 90,000 refab units turned out in 1955.

Homes in Pastels Popular on Coast

California is in the midst of a trend away from helter-skelter colors for homes and toward a mature sophistication in color choices, especially on exteriors.

This is a result of a growing dependence by builders on the skills and talents of color stylists who know the entire field of colors available in various materials and can combine them subtly and with taste.

The increased use of pastel colors in asphalt roofing is partly responsible for this trend, helping to provide better color balance on homes through proper use of color, as well as more attractive streets and communities.

World Opinion Lauds Russians as Rocket Approaches Moon

Soviets Cited For Success Of Endeavor

Reactions Favorable Among Friends, Foes Of Communist Line

LONDON (AP) — "Americans talk too much. Even their satellites talk. The Russians don't say anything until they get there. I suppose they must be pretty sure to reach the moon."

This was a Swedish night watchman's reaction to news of the moon-bound Soviet rocket.

The closer the 1½-ton Soviet rocket approached the moon today, the greater was the praise for the Soviet Union building up from Communists and non-Communists around the world.

Little Chance of Failure

With the rocket more than halfway along celestial Highway No. 1 to the moon, scientists and commentators saw little chance of its going astray.

There was an almost complete agreement that the rocket would reach the area of the moon about 11 p.m. EST tonight—just as the Russians have said it will.

A few in Western European capitals began to wonder how soon men would go into space?

The anti-Communist Vienna newspaper Kurier was far ahead of the rocket and said in a banner headline early today: "Soviets Reach the Moon."

The French newspaper Le Figaro said the Russians were too smart to take risks by announcing the shoot before success was practically assured.

Military Significance

A writer for The London Daily Express said the major thing about the rocket was its military significance.

"Scientifically and politically the success of this Russian moon probe will be enormous. But the major dismay to the Western powers will be in the military sphere," wrote Chapman Pincher.

Rocket

of their moon rocket indicates they can now send up a vehicle large enough to carry a man.

But the government did not specify when it would set up an expedition to the moon. No details of the preparations were given.

Even before the rocket had time to leave the earth's atmosphere, the government proclaimed it "the first successful inter-planetary flight."

They described the space device as a multistage rocket with a Soviet flag and the legend "U.S.S.R., January 1959" in the nose.

School Needs

of the 10 districts for several weeks.

—:—

IN ADDITION to the primary recommendation of creation of a single school district, the bureau called for the creation of a three-high school program, using the new Ridgedale plant as one, and providing for the building of two new schools, one along State Rt. 98 between U.S. Rt. 30-S and State Rt. 95 and the other near the intersections of State Rts. 4 and 203.

Junior high school curriculums would be maintained at the Claridon, Pleasant and LaRue schools, and elementary programs would be kept in each of the existing schools.

What brought about these seemingly drastic recommendations? In a word, inadequacy.

The survey team found facilities, in general, far less than what they should be to provide the kind of education deemed advisable.

The bureau noted, at the outset, that not a single district in the county met the minimum standard enrollment recommended for adequacy by the White House Conference on Education, which calls for a minimum of 1,200 pupils and 40 teachers per district.

None of the 10 high schools met state requirements for secondary schools of 300 pupils or 75 per grade. Six of the elementary centers fell below the minimum standards of one room per grade.

CLEARLY, THE bureau pointed out, none of the 10 districts was large enough to provide the required number of youngsters necessary to meet specifications prepared by the White House Conference and adopted by the State Department of Education.

Secondly, the researchers found that with the exception of Ridgedale, which was opened for the first time this fall, the county's high schools were all of ancient vintage, their construction dates ranging from the building of the Caledonia and Grand Prairie structures in 1910 to the erection of the LaRue school in 1925.

The elementary picture was somewhat brighter, with most of these buildings having been constructed or improved in the 1950's. But, although additions made to each of the buildings in the county, were, for the most part, modern in every respect, several have considerable woodwork, constituting potential fire hazards.

The survey revealed a remarkable heterogeneity in the educational programs offered. The types of courses offered differed widely from school to school.

Marion County schools are operated on the 6-6 plan, with grades one through six in the elementary program, and those from seven through 12 in the secondary.

THE ELEMENTARY programs in all the county schools called for arithmetic, language arts and social studies, including geography and history, surveyors noted. Instruction in vocal and instrumental music was, and is, provided by special teachers but physical education is not carried on except in the sixth grade in two districts.

Needed, the bureau noted, are improved library and health services, a reading clinic, a speech therapy program, physical education classes and psychological services on a part-time basis.

In the secondary program, a big difference in curriculums is noted. With the exceptions of English and junior high mathematics, no subject has been offered every year by all schools. Various ones offer a number of subjects in alternate years, including bookkeeping, general business, shorthand, Latin, home economics, second year algebra, chemistry and physics.

In the last five years, surveyors observed, four high schools did not offer driver training. The other six did not make the course available each year during the period.

The study revealed that in many instances less than 10 pupils constituted a five-year enrollment in such subjects as vocational agriculture, foreign language, home economics or higher mathematics.

Clearly, the differentiation in programs offered would not provide all school youngsters in the county with the potentials for an equal education, the survey emphasized.

FINALLY, the bureau noted that the county's school finance potential did not promise a bright future under the current multiple-district setup.

Researchers noted that all 10 districts had a marked increase in valuation during the last eight years. The largest occurred in the Green Camp area where the valuation jumped from $2.7 million to $10.3 million. The smallest was in Tully, where the 1958 valuation was less than half a milion dollars more than it was eight years previous.

Although every district except Pleasant and Prospect showed a rise in the per-pupil valuation since 1950, construction costs rose some 37 per cent over the same period. As a result, only Caledonia and Green Camp, the survey noted, whose per-pupil valuations increased 54 and 90 per cent, respectively, were in better shape in 1958 than in 1950 to meet school plant needs.

Tax rates also increased during this period. Seven of the 10 districts reported no tax levy for debt service in 1950. However, by 1958, all districts were levying taxes to pay bonded indebtedness.

Since additional school taxes would almost certainly be needed in the future, the bureau foresaw consolidation into one district as the only feasible solution to having available the funds necessary to provide the educational facilities and programs required.

Thus, by virtue of a need for better and more adequate buildings, a fuller and more homogeneous curriculum and a combining of financial terms to provide funds, the bureau determined that a one-district plan would best answer the needs of the Marion County school system.

Alaska

tle Diomede Island, a part of the new U.S. state.

Admission of Alaska culminates a 42-year statehood drive and brings into the union a resource-rich region more than twice the size of Texas. It is nearly one-fifth as large as the other 48 states combined.

Alaska is the first non-contiguous state and the first to join the union since 1912 when New Mexico and Arizona were admitted.

Several proposed flag designs were presented to the President Friday at his Gettysburg farm for his final decision. The public and organizations had submitted almost 2,000 suggestions.

Mayor Says McKinley Ice Still Thick Enough

The ice at McKinley Park Lake still is safe for skating, Mayor Wendell L. Strong reported today.

He said in answer to numerous queries about its safety, he sent city firemen to the lake this morning to check on its thickness.

He said they reported the ice will be thick enough for safe skating at least through Sunday, he said.

Cuban Revolt

reins of the Cuban government.

The Cubana Airlines Viscount to bring Castro and Urrutia here normally would make the flight to Santiago and back in less than four hours.

This indicated that the rebel leader and the man he wants for president would arrive sometime this afternoon, with Urrutia moving immediately into the heavily fortified Presidential Palace after being sworn in.

The Cuban Supreme Court had refused to swear in Batista's choice for his successor, Carlos Piedra.

Rebels Assume Control

The rebels came out of the hills Friday night and assumed control of all army garrisons, government buildings and police stations in westernmost Pinar Del Rio province.

A fierce and bloody battle between rebel tanks and diehard Batista followers accompanied the occupation of Havana by Castro followers Friday. More than 40 men were believed dead and estimates of the wounded ran to 450.

Gunfire was heard in various sections of Havana during the night. Bands of gun-toting rebel youths roamed the city hunting enemies of Castro and claiming control of sections of this city of 1¼ million persons.

Some 600 of Castro's top fighting men arrived in Havana before dawn from Las Villas province. They were led by Ernesto Guevara, an Argentinemedical doctor who as one of Castro's top lieutenants was a commander in the crucial battle of Santa Clara.

Food in Short Supply

Although a general strike called by the rebels until Urrutia takes over is only 48 hours old, food is already in short supply. Some grocery stores were broken into and looted during the night in central Havana. Police were rushed to the scenes to break up raids.

Unless the strike ends and there is a halt to the violence arising out of the political situation, bloody riots may also develop.

Two rebels were shot dead Friday night near the Hilton Hotel and another near the University of Havana.

Some areas of the fashionable West Side were blocked off and barricaded. Most foreigners stayed inside hotels, where the food supplies began to run low.

The strike shut down transportation except for a few taxis. Stores were closed, and it was impossible to buy many necessities.

Havana's radio warned partisans against unnecessary shooting, and the rebels declared looters would be dealt with severely. Rebel patrols tried to keep order in the streets.

Rebels kept pedestrians and automobiles from the Hotel Nacional, where many Americans were waiting for transportation home.

Four Americans, William L. Ryan, Bob Clark and James Kerlin of The Associated Press, and Robert Perez of New York, were seized by a rebel patrol while walking from the AP office to the Nacional.

A rebel leader told them they could not be allowed to continue to the hotel because they were in danger of being shot by patrols from another rebel faction. The rebel promised escort to a nearby hotel for the night.

Three AP staffers, Larry Allen, George Kaufman and Harold Valentine, were taken from their office at gunpoint Friday. Driven to a police station, they were later released.

470 Americans Leave

About 470 American tourists and vacationing students left on the ocean-going ferry City of Havana for Key West, Fla. The U.S. State Department sent the ferry because normal shipping and airline services had been canceled.

The U.S. embassy said the ferry would come back tonight for any other Americans who wanted to leave. The State Department in Washington said three U.S. destroyer escorts and two auxiliary vessels were standing by off Cuba in case of need.

An International Airline executive said Friday night that nearly all offices of foreign airlines in the city were attacked and looted by mobs during the past two days.

The battle erupted Friday as Castro followers streamed into the city from all directions. Now in control of the army, the rebels poured its tanks and guns into the three-hour fight within sight of the Presidential Palace.

Several hundred followers of fallen dictator Fulgencio Batista were apparently defeated — but there could be more fighting to come.

The shooting around a business block lasted from shortly before noon until around 3 p.m. Informed sources emphasized no accurate count of casualties was possible because of the unsettled conditions.

Traffic Count Rolling Along At Rapid Pace

Officials Fear Holiday Toll May Hit Record Set in 1956-57 Period

HOLIDAY TOLL

|---|---|
| Traffic | 226 |
| Fire | 41 |
| Miscellaneous | 60 |
| Total | 327 |

The new year holiday auto toll, triggered by a relentless assault by motorists on the highways, piled up today at a bloody clip, which threatened the record for a similar four-day period two years ago.

The grim prospect that the death count might reach the record of 409 auto fatalities for the 1956-57 new year period brought an anxious appeal from the National Safety Council for drivers to slam on the brakes and curb the toll.

The NSC had predicted 390 auto deaths for the 102-hour period that started at 6 p.m. (local time) Wednesday. The Associated Press count ends at midnight (local time) Sunday.

An unexpected rash of highway deaths late Friday night shot the toll to a pace ahead of a corresponding count two years ago.

The NSC feared the combined Christmas and New Year total was likely to result in the stunning figure of nearly 1,000 auto deaths on the nation's roads.

Some 594 Americans paid in their lives for auto accidents during the four-day Christmas holiday. Two years ago the Christmas weekend showed 706 auto deaths, which combined with the New Year's figure, added to an all-time high of 1,115.

sinct in a fourth-floor nursery adjoining the maternity ward. Eight other babies were in the nursery.

The father saw his child for the first and only time at 11:30 p.m. Then he kissed his wife and started home.

When the baby was missed a few minutes later, police located Chionchio and rushed him back to the hospital while a search was being made. About 2 a.m. today he finally had to break the bad news to his wife.

Police began checking all transportation facilities and urged all taxi and bus drivers to watch for a woman carrying an infant.

The baby bore an identification bracelet on her left wrist. Her footprint had been taken before she was kidnaped.

The couple also have a 1-year-old daughter, Gerardette.

Success

This has been described as the speed needed to send a space ship from earth to a planet.

Reaching that reported speed may have prompted Moscow Radio to announce Soviet preparations to equip an expedition to the moon that "would establish an observatory and an intermediary base there for a future space flight." The broadcast, in English, added no further details.

Even before the Soviet announcement of the launching, the House Space Committee urged the Air Force Friday to make two more attempts to hit the moon. A new try by the Army already has been scheduled, possibly for early next month.

An official of the Defense Department's advanced Research Projects Agency said it had learned of the Russian probe attempt before Moscow Radio's announcement. The timing of the House committee's unanimous resolution and the Soviet announcement, however, appeared to be a coincidence.

The Russian rocket is expected to add urgency to the committee's proposal.

Two Youths Fined $50 On Extortion Charges

Two Marion boys, 15 and 16 years old, were fined $50 and costs each in Juvenile Court Friday on extortion charges.

The youths, arrested earlier this week, were accused of obtaining $350 from William Delauder of 582 E. Mark St. Delauder is being held under $5,000 bond for the grand jury on charges of felonious assault and taking indecent liberties with minors.

Judge Edward J. Ruzzo also ordered the boys to make restitution of $175 each, placed them on indefinite probation with a 4 p.m. daily curfew and ordered them not to associate with each other or with Delauder in the future. The fines and restitution are to be paid during this calendar year, the judge decreed.

Canadian City To Learn Fate After Tragedy

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (AP)—The fate of this town of tragedy is in the balance.

The Canadian and Nova Scotian governments are trying to find an answer. Springhill's 7,000 residents are impatient to learn what's to become of them.

Mayor Ralph Gilroy in two years has guided the citizens through two mine tragedies — total dead 114 — and a 1½ million dollar fire in the town's business district. Confident that Springhill will recover, he says:

"The governments are doing everything in their power. By spring we'll have an industry. We will recover and maybe be a better Springhill for it."

About 800 coal miners, unemployed since the Dominion Steel and Coal Corp. shut down the last of its mines here, want work. Scores, perhaps hundreds, would rather leave than exist on relief.

Little real hardship is expected until spring when unemployment benefits begin running out.

The disaster relief pension will likely be about that given widows of 39 men killed in a 1956 mine explosion—$29 a month plus $10 for the youngest child and $5 for each additional child under 18.

Fire

The fire apparently was kindled in a clothes closet. Mrs. Canterbury and a neighbor detected the smell of smoke about 3 p.m. They searched the trailer to determine its source and when Mrs. Canterbury opened the closet, flames shot up in her face, according to the report.

She and the neighbor, the only occupants of the trailer at the time, were able to reach safety without harm.

The box alarm was turned in at the corner of Bellefontaine Ave. and Davids St. at 3:06 p.m.

The fire left the Canterburys homeless with no insurance on their mobile home, Chief Sifritt said. The trailer park is located just outside the city limits on Bellefontaine Ave.

In other activity Friday, firemen answered two inhalator calls. They responded to a call at 426½ S. State St. at 8:30 p.m. where Thelma Williamson, 3, was having difficulty in breathing. Suffering from a severe cold, the child was taken to Marion General Hospital in the fire chief's car. The inhalator was not used. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Williamson of the S. State St. address. Her condition was described as "fair" this morning.

Mrs. Alice Vernon, 34, of 789 Davids St. was taken to General Hospital in a Boyd ambulance after firemen operated the inahlator 20 minutes Friday night.

They were called to Mrs. Vernon's home at 11:12 p.m. where she was suffering from an asthma attack. She was admitted to the hospital. Her condition was listed as "fair" this morning.

Delinquent Taxes On Property Rises

Delinquent taxes on Marion County real estate and special assessments increased by more than $11,000 for 1958, according to a report from State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

The report lists delinquencies for 1958 at $51,612 against $40,272 for 1957.

Throughout the state, the total of delinquent taxes on real estate, special assessments and public utilities dropped to the lowest figure since pre-depression days, the state auditor reported. The total was $29,814,523 against a delinquency of $30,898,410 for 1957.

In bordering counties, delinquencies for 1957 with 1957 figures in parentheses were:

Crawford, $71,458 ($70,641); Delaware, $161,547 ($155,985); Hardin, $34,168 ($27,997); Morrow, $32,934 ($20,752); Union, $35,684 ($38,970), and Wyandot, $22,444 ($23,599).

of mystery. This is partly due to security precautions aimed at guarding him from anti-Communist demonstrators.

Most authorities believe Mikoyan's Washington trip is connected with the Berlin crisis. Mikoyan may have been given an assignment by Premier Khrushchev to make known the Kremlin's eagerness to settle the Berlin dispute. But officials who believe this acknowledge they are only guessing.

Pleasant Rallies for Win

Pleasant's Pandas, co-leaders along with Prospect in the Marion County League race, had the scare of their lives Friday night before posting a last-period win in a 64-63 cliff-hanger at Claridon.

Bus Augenstein's scrappy Hornets grabbed a 17-16 lead in nip and tuck, first quarter and by the halftime intermission had built up a commanding 40-29 edge.

Then in the third quarter, Coach Stan Kirby's quintet found the range. The Pandas pumped in 21 points during that eight - minute stretch while holding Claridon to 11. The spurt enabled the league leaders to go into the final eight minutes trailing only by one point, 51-50.

The Hornets held a 24-21 edge in field goals but Kirby's charges popped in 22 markers on charity tosses while Claridon collected only 15 at the foul lines.

Four cagers hit in double figures for the Pleasant squad with Larry Mahaffey leading the way with 15 points. Jeff Peacock popped in 13 markers while Dennis Rice and Jack Stone each accounted for 12. Claridon's Max Strine was the game's top point getter with 25. Dick Kelley added 15 for the losers.

With Tom Rodgers banging in 27 points, Howard Mosher getting 22 and Tim Hickman 10, the Bulldogs, by game's end, had rimmed Eagles buckets for 34 goals and 13 free throws.

Coach Paul Zwayer's outclassed boys completed 16 from the field and rolled in an even dozen from the foul line. Paul Thacker was Martel's top point getter with 19.

Coach Fred McCumber's cagers played the game without the services of varsity starting forward Dave Lauer, who is expected to be out of action at least three weeks as the result of the emergency appendectomy he underwent Christmas eve.

The powerful Bulldogs clash with visiting Northwestern tonight, then meet a potent Fredericktown quintet in the Coliseum Tuesday night.

Ridgedale Wins 82-72

A blistering first quarter which saw them hit on 12 of 19 shots carried the Ridgedale Rockets to a 82-72 win over New Bloomington Friday night on the Rams' court.

The win was the third against one setback in league play for Coach Bill Phillips' charges and left them in a tie with Green Camp for third place.

The rapid-fire first quarter gave Ridgedale a 24-13 lead and at the halftime break, the Rockets had blasted into a 46-30 edge. They went into the final eight minutes of play with a 59-41 cushion.

Coach Jim Coffman lost the services of two players via the foul route. John Jolliff and Jack Ullmer each sat out part of the game and finally drew their fifth personals.

Joe Moore poured in 30 points to lead the winning attack and his younger brother, Fred, hit for 20. John Uhl scored 18 to lead New Bloomington's attack while Don Bumgarner netted 16 and Jolliff finished with 10.

Irish Battle Scioto Valley In Conference Tilt Tonight

Marion Catholic's hardcourt crew gets back into regular schedule action tonight on the Scioto Valley boards in Ostrander. The charges of Coach Ray Robbins will still be after win No. 1 for the season.

The conflict will be the second one in Mid Ohio Conference play for the Irish, who were downed, 52-42, by Elm Valley prior to the holidays.

To date, Catholic cage fans have had precious little to cheer about. The Robbinsmen, plagued by inexperience, have tumbled to defeat in five regularly scheduled games, and twice in the basketball carnival, sponsored annually during the Christmas season by Marion Catholic.

ROBBINS HAS been working with some 10 players in virtually every game, but as yet has not found the combination capable of winning.

To date the Irish have scored a total of 282 points in seven games, two of these carnival actions. That's an average of about 40 points per try. Their opponents have hit for 445 digits, an average of 64 per outing.

The best Marion effort thus far was its game with Tiffin Calvert when the Irish rolled in 56 points in losing by a 72-56 tally.

The Robbinsmen will, in Scioto Valley, be meeting a team less than their equal in experience but better in the won-lost column.

With one letterman on the starting five (compared to three for Marion), the Rockets of Coach Thad Seeley have a 2-5 record overall and are 1-1 in Mid Ohio play.

Conferencewise, Scioto has a 59-57 victory over Cardington to its credit, while losing 85-63 to Elm Valley. Elm Valley clouted the Robbinsmen 52-42 in the second game of the season for the Irish.

IN ADDITION to the Pirates, Seeley's five has downed Marengo 66-42. They have suffered losses to Richwood, Olentangy, Big Walnut and Radnor, besides Elm Valley.

The Catholic squad once again finds itself enjoying a height advantage against the Rockets. That, however, has failed to make much difference in the past. Scioto will floor a starting five averaging just about 6-feet even, with its tallest man 6-2 center Del Cook.

Against Cook, Robbins will send 6-6 Tom Rish, a senior letterman on the Green and White quintet.

Seeley reported that "lack of height" has been the "big bugaboo" for his Valleyans. "We've got a bit of speed, but it has been tough for us in both the height and experience departments," he declared.

Robbins is expected to start sophomore Larry Roth. Roth, a 5-8 sophomore, was a pleasant surprise for Irish fans in the Catholic 52-39 defeat at the hands of Mans' field St. Peter in the consolation game of the holiday carnival, rimming Spartan buckets for 19 points.

ROTH'S SHOWING has been especially gratifying inasmuch as his appearance in the lineup gives the Robbinsmen a brace of starting sophomores. Paul Hurney, big 220-pound forward is the other cager presently giving Robbins promise of brighter times in the next two years.

The conference game will be the first of two in a row for the Irish, who journey to Cardington Tuesday for a clash with Richard Reinehr's Pirate five.

Harding Entertains Ashland Hoopsters

Harding will go into tonight's non-conference battle with Ashland High School's cage squad as a heavy favorite but may be facing a revamped lineup.

George Valentine, veteran coach of the Arrows, in an attempt to take advantage of all the height available decided to try a few lineup changes for his squad's two games this week. The Arrows went into Friday night's contest with Mansfield Madison with a 2-4 record.

UNDER VALENTINE'S new plan, Harding may find itself facing Dave Wait, 5-10 junior, and Jim Kopp, a 5-8 senior, at the guard positions with Steve Enck, 6-3 senior letterman, at center. The forwards, probably will be Bob Sweet, a 6-3 sophomore, and Ned Sale, 6-4 senior, or Ken Oxenrider, a 6-4 junior.

In the Arrows' first six games, Kopp and Gaye Meininger, a 5-8 junior, handled the guard duties with Enck at center and Wait and Sweet at forwards. Valentine hopes the addition of Sale and Oxenrider to the starting lineup will increase his rebounding power. Oxenrider has been playing with the reserve squad but has earned a shot at a varsity berth.

IN THEIR SIX games prior to Friday night's clash, the Arrows had managed a 366-364 scoring edge over their opponents for an offensive average of 61 points. Coach Don Knodel's Presidents have rolled to a 5-2 record while outscoring seven foes by a 420-340 margin. The Prexies have averaged an even 60 points per game while allowing just over 48.

Valentine's Arrows fell to Mount Vernon 53-44 in their opener and then whipped Dover 74-50 and Galion 76-62. Since then they have fallen to Bellevue 56-54, New Philadelphia 85-68 and Cleveland Shaw 56-53.

Thus far Valentine has relied on a fast-breaking attack with Wait pacing the scorers. He popped in 121 markers for a 20-point per game average. His high point came against Galion when he dumped in 34. Enck is the team's top rebound artist. He currently is averaging 19 a game.

The Arrows have been banking on a man to man defense but on a few occasions have moved into a zone setup.

KNODEL HAS scouted tonight's foe once and feels that his charges should record Win No. 6. "They have fair speed and average height," the Harding coach said. "However, I understand this is not one of their better teams."

The Prexies turned in their top performance of the season Tuesday in falling to Lorain 72-69 and Knodel feels his team is on its way. The squad ran through rugged practice sessions Thursday and Friday.

"We're still making a lot of silly mistakes," Knodel reported. "But that will be ironed out real soon."

Tonight's contest will be the final competition for Harding prior to next week's important conference clash here with undefeated Elyria.

Rams in First Loss

Upper Defeated 57-56 In Spirited Willard Tilt

UPPER SANDUSKY — A classy Willard cage crew handed Upper Sandusky its first setback of the season here Friday night in a 57-56 thriller decided in the closing seconds.

A long jump shot by Mike Winner gave Willard its edge with just five seconds remaining. An Upper player was fouled before the clock ran out but couldn't connect on a one and one situation.

Coach Ed Fisher's Rams led 17-12 after the first quarter but were on the short end of a 31-26 halftime count. The Rams forged into the lead after three periods by a 46-43 edge.

With 30 seconds showing on the clock the Rams moved into a 56-55 lead on a bunny by Riley Stover but Winner's shot with the clock running out offset that tally.

The Rams finished with a 38 per cent shooting average, connecting on 23 of 60 shots from the field. They added 10 of 14 charity throws. Willard hit on 23 of 58 field attempts and 11 of 22 from the free throw lines.

Johnny Hehr led the Upper scoring with 17 points. Stover finished with 14 while Phil Clark hit for 13 and Fritz Smith added 12. Karl Felver, 6-6 Willard Center, scored 21 and Winner had 11.

Fisher lost the services of play maker Hehr for all of the second quarter after his ace contacted three personal fouls during first period play. Another contributing factor to the Rams' downfall was the fact they connected at a 25 per cent pace from the field in the last quarter.

It was the first loss after seven wins for the Rams and lifted Willard's record to 7-2.

Kenton Loses 75-63 Contest To St. Marys

KENTON — The Kenton cage squad almost won a game Friday night, and their victims might have been previously undefeated St. Maryr's Memorial.

But, after knotting the count at 21-21 in the second period and then climbing to within nine points of a tie in the final session, the Wildcats fell apart and suffered a 75-63 defeat.

St. Mary's led at the quarter 20-15, was in the van 41-31 at halftime, and held a 59-45 margin after three periods of play.

All told, St. Mary's rolled in 28 goals and 19 free throws, compared to 23 completions from the field and 17 from the foul line for Kenton. An altercation in the third period between St. Mary's Martin and Kenton's Ron Pephens resulted in both cagers being banished from the court.

Masters wound up, however, with 21 points for the game's scoring honors. Stauffer and Harding both hit 13 for the Wildcat cause. It was the eighth defeat in as many outings for Kenton.

The reserve game went to St. Mary's by a 51-50 tally.

Officer Giving Up On Boxing Career

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Gloves or gun?

Newark's punching policeman, Eddie Dixon, has chosen the gun. He made up his mind Friday he would rather pound a beat as a $4,600-a-year patrolman than pound opponents as a prizefighter.

The decision could cost him $20,000 this year, said his manager, Bobby Nelson, including a $4,000 television fee for a scheduled main event bout next Friday in Madison Square Garden.

Dixon was to have met 10th ranked middleweight Gene "Ace" Armstrong of Elizabeth. But if he did, Police Director Joseph F. Weldon said he would have to leave the force.

He couldn't hold both jobs, said Weldon, who is opposed to officers having outside work.

Illinois Cabinetmaker's Dream Finally Realized

KANKAKEE, Ill. (AP)—Cabinetmaker Edward (Ted) James is completing his lifelong dream—his own river houseboat.

James' boat is 8 feet wide and 22½ feet long. He has named it the "Waw-be-wawa" meaning snow goose from Longfellow's "Hiawatha."

He started the hull during his vacation a year ago and prefabricated the cabin interior in seven foot sections in his workshop.

Vandals Take Bridge Signs, Endangering Lives

Engineer Says Practice 'Dangerous,' Warns Of Possible Fines

The county engineer's department is being plagued by pranksters whose favorite sport seems to be stealing or tampering with signs at bridge approaches.

County Engineer Reed Ours said a number of signs have been reported missing during the last few weeks. Last week, four were found discarded behind the Whirlpool Corp. plant.

"This apparently is the work of pranksters," said Mr. Ours, "but it's a very dangerous kind of prank because it can cost a life."

—:—

HE SAID most of the signs that were taken from bridges too narrow to handle normal two - lane traffic have been replaced. These signs, situated between 800 to 1,000 feet on each side of the bridges during the last six weeks, Ahead." The engineer said these warning signs definitely are needed, especially when roads are icy.

He pointed out that four auto crashes have occurred on county bridges during the last sisx weeks, one of them resulting in injuries to the driver.

"If driver's don't see the signs they might not slow down in time," said Mr. Ours. "The approaches to most of our bridges generally are clear; it's the high-speed traffic that worries me," he said.

In some cases the signs are left standing but are turned around to face the wrong way. The engineer said this is equally as dangerous as removing the signs.

MR. OURS SAID he thinks it is the work of young people who don't fully realize the seriousness of what they are doing. "They don't stop to think that tampering with these signs might cost their own lives sometime or the lives of their friends and families," said Mr. Ours.

The signs found back of the Whirlpool plant were taken from approaches to a small bridge on County Rd. 105 just north of the Marion Country Club. Mr. Ours said this is a dangerous spot and that signs on such approaches are essential.

Although drivers should exercise caution when approaching a bridge, they often need a reminder, said the engineer. A driver unfamiliar with the county might slow down too late if the sign along the approach to a bridge is missing.

Anyone found tampering with highway markers of any kind is subject to a $50 fine for the first offense and a fine of between $10 and $100 and 10 days in jail for the second offense.

BRIDGE APPROACH SIGNS, such as the one shown here on County Rd. 136, have been the target of pranksters in recent weeks, creating additional hazards at the already narrow spans. County Engineer Reed Ours said several signs have been removed, some of them from dangerous approaches. This bridge, which crosses the QuQua Ditch, was the scene of one of four auto crashes at one-lane bridges during the last six weeks.

Holds 2-Stroke Edge

Johnny Bulla Nails Lead In Open at Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Birdie-bagging Johnny Bulla of Arizona today led the way into the second round of the $35,000 Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament, an event he captured back in 1941.

At 44, Bulla is hardly an antique in golf, but it's been a long time since he hit the headlines in a major tournament.

The likeable guy from Phoenix took charge, of the first round when he burned the Rancho municipal course with a 33-31—64. This was seven strokes under par 36-35—71 for the 7,000-yard layout.

Third in 1955

Bulla, an infrequent participant in the big tournaments, made a stab at the Los Angeles crown in 1955. He finished third behind Gene Littler and Ted Kroll.

In recent weeks he has won four sectional tournaments, the Arizona Open, the Southwest PGA and the Southern California PGA and Open events.

A pair of newcomers, John McMullin of Alameda, Calif., and Doug Sanders of Miami Beach, Fla., were tied at 66. McMullin and Sanders, 23 and 25, were kids when Bulla won this event 18 years ago.

Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., was alone with a 67. Two former National Open champions, Julius Boros and Jack Fleck, were tied with 68s.

Tommy Bolt, U.S. Open champion, was deadlocked at 69 with veteran Lloyd Mangrum, Mike Souchak, Howie Johnson of Glenwoodie, Ill., and young Joe E. Campbell of Knoxville, Tenn.

4 Tied at 70

Knotted at 70 were several other sound threats, including Littler, Dow Finsterwald, Bo Wininger and Fred Hawkins.

Two Californians who rated as pre-tournament favorites were a bit back in the running. They are Bill Casper with 70 and Ken Venturi with 72.

Frank Stranahan, the 1958 winner here, was well down the line with a 74. Former National Open champion Dick Mayer had 76 and Arnold Palmer and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison each had 72.

DiSalle, Aide To Study Split For State Unit

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Gov.-elect Michael V. DiSalle says he plans to meet here Monday with Dr. Robert A. Haines to discuss possible splitting of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction into two separate agencies. Haines is department director.

DiSalle has said his proposal calls for one agency to supervise the state's mental health program and the other to control correctional institutions.

DiSalle said Friday he also plans to review each state department after he takes office Jan. 12. The review, he said, will include the operation of Ohio Penitentiary and the Division of Correction.

But he emphasized that the review will not be aimed at individuals unless the study points to a deficiency in the system.

The remarks were in answer to the Columbus Dispatch, which asked him if a prison investigation is in the making. The newspaper's question was prompted by published reports of alleged favoritism for certain inmates at Ohio Penitentiary.

An Air Force spokesman said something apparently went wrong with the hydraulic system that controls the plane's rudders and flaps.
